In 1857 Chevalier lamented the fall in gold in relation to property, labor etc. He said its value had not changed in its relation to silver; but in order to protect the interests of bond holders, and of those having a fixed income, he recommended the demonetization of

These nations had all practically suspended specie payments, and the silver formerly held by them had naturally found its way into the markets of the world.

And on the other hand, hundreds of millions of dollars worth of gold had to be obtained, from the gold markets of the world, to fill the vacuum in the currency occasioned by the withdrawal

The passage of the limited and restricted Remonetizing Act of 1878, preceded by the demonetizing Act of 1873, and re-enforced by the hesitating and feeble support given to the Remonetizing Act of 1878 by some of our intimidated representatives, resulted in the discrediting of silver, as a money metal, in all the markets of the world. And this condition of things naturally causes all the monometalists everywhere to become bulls on the gold market and bears on the silver market. Is it surprising under such circumstances that the relative value of the two metals has been dis-

In his address before the Phi Beta Kappa society of Harvard, Bishop Potter said that the spoils system was one of the greatest dangers that threaten the country. In closing his remarks he said: "This surely is a system of government that deliberately conspires to degrade men, and not even delicacy ought to consent to excuse or condone it. Happily a situation so grave has its elements of alarm which can not easily be barren of some good result. We are at the extreme, wise men tell us, of a drift which became well nigh inviolable in a spirit of vicious forces generated in connection with our great civil war. And if the nation is strong enough to survive that innermost deterioration which has threatened and is threatening the foundations of character among us, it will be stronger still because of the victory which it has won over its unworthier self."

"O look at those fire-crackers right in the sky! I guess up in heaven it's Fourth of July."

A LONG TALK BEGUN

Battle Opened on the National Election Bill.

SIX DAYS DEVOTED TO ELOQUENCE.

Synopsis of the Points Made on the First Day of the Debate—Western Men and the Proposed Reciprocity with South America—Commissioner Morgan Has a Splat with a Congressman Over an Office—Call in Hard Luck—Chicago's Census Station—Bulldozed the Postmaster.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 27.—The debate on the national election bill began in the house of representatives yesterday and will rage with great vigor doubtless until the gag of the previous question is applied July 2. As six days of eloquence will have been devoted to the illumination of the subject by that time, it would seem that the subject will have been pretty well exhausted and that pretty much all that can be said pro and con will have been said. Lodge of Massachusetts, who is the author in most part of the measure, took the floor to give it the send-off. The bill, he said, did nothing in a corner. Every step in the elections under it would be taken in the open light of day. The point he urged with the greatest vigor was that—whether justified or not—there was a general suspicion of the fairness of elections in certain parts of the country. The elections might be fair, but they should be known to be so, and this bill would remove suspicion if they were so and stop the corruption if it existed.

Origin of Such Legislation.

He gave the origin of the law now on the statute books, and said this bill was nothing more than an extension of that law. The first election bill had its origin in the frauds in New York in 1870 and 1871, where in one ward, after throwing out all the other votes, the Democratic vote alone was fourteen times greater than the total population of the ward—men, women and children. He referred to the great discrepancy existing between the number of votes it takes to elect a congressman in the north and some of southern states, averaging less than 15,000 in the south to over 30,000 in the north, and intimated that there must be a "nigger in the woodpile." What he wanted was the truth, and this bill would bring it out.

Hemphill Replies to Lodge.

Hemphill of South Carolina made an argument to prove the bill unconstitutional, sectional and inefficient—the latter because if a United States inspector should be corrupted and return a Democrat, he could not be removed. That had not occurred to the gentleman from Massachusetts. There was no more iniquitous provision in the bill than that which provided for the appointment of an unnumbered force of men absolutely under the direction of the supervisor. He declared that partisanship among officeholders in the south was what was the matter, and not the elections; that a "new north" was needed, and that the confession that there was a general belief that corruption existed was most humiliating.

Northern Gerrymanders Denounced.
He ridiculed the Republican cry of "A free ballot and a fair count," and said that it was useless to talk about a free ballot in Kansas when the state had been so gerrymandered that the 147,000 Democrats there had never been represented in the house. He referred to the peculiarities of districting which made it take more votes in California, Illinois, and other states to send a Democrat to congress than to send a Republican. He charged that New York and Connecticut were both misrepresented on the floor of the senate, because both of them really were Democratic.

A Significant Conclusion.
In conclusion Hemphill said: "We know we must either rule that country [the south] or leave it. Now, for myself, before the people of the United States, and before God, in all reverence, I swear we will not leave it. [Applause.] * * * I do not hesitate to say that the colored man has as many rights as I have, but he can't have his rights and mine, too; and this law is intended to put him again in control of the southern states; intended to awaken that race prejudice which is fast dying out; intended to bring out again that constant irritation and clash between the two colors in the south which will retard its growth, and which will be destructive of the very principles of human government."

Rowell Impugns Cleveland's Election.
Rowell of Illinois said that it was the conviction that every man's ballot counted one at the polls that made this a government of the people. He thought there was no question of the power of congress to enact this law or of the necessity of using that power. The number was increasing of those who believed Mr. Cleveland was counted in six years ago. He believed the black vote was suppressed in the south and it was the expressed intention of the men who controlled that section that the suppression should continue.

Oates Gives the Parliamentary Life.
Oates of Alabama said that of his own knowledge he knew the statement to be untrue.

Rowell replied that only on that basis could the most universal absence from the polls of the black men in many southern states be accounted for.

Pool of Arkansas and Lewis of Mississippi both declared that there was no charge of fraud in their districts. Wheeler of Alabama and Crisp of Georgia, speaking for their states, denied Rowell's charges.

Crisp asked Rowell to account for the silence of 40 per cent. of the vote of Maine and Massachusetts.

Rowell replied that it was not so in a presidential year.

McRae Makes an Admission.

Breckinridge and Rowell had a dispute over the circumstances of the former's election, during which McRae of Arkansas admitted that armed men rode about the polling places in that state in Powell Clayton's time, but said there had been better times since.

The day's debate was closed by Lehlbach, who wanted the people of the several states let alone in the matter, and Tucker, who said the way to correct fraud was by an enlightened public sentiment which would frown it down.

A Pretty State of Things.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 27.—The postmaster general has sent a guard to White Springs, Fla., to protect the postmaster there—C. L. Morrison, Republican—because the office has been boycotted, the postmaster violently carried, bound, to a town thirty miles distant, on a false warrant, and his life threatened, because he had the authors of the outrage indicted. The culprits were ex-Postmaster Paxton; Principal Skepworth, of the Florida state normal school; Assistant Principal Guilham, and a Mr. Cohn, said to be the richest man in Hamilton county.

BLAINE'S RECIPROCITY IDEA.

Views of Western Congressmen Generally Favorable Thereto.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 27.—The strongest sentiment in favor of Blaine's reciprocity proposition seems to dwell with the members of the house of representatives from the middle and western states. Payson of Illinois said yesterday that the western representatives were largely in favor of the proposition as embodied in the amendment offered by Hale in the senate. Payson attended an informal meeting of western members a few days ago, and he said there was a surprising unanimity of opinion expressed there in favor of Hale's amendment. "Speaking for myself," he said, "I am heartily in favor of some reciprocity measure." He thought that the matter would be pushed this session or taken up as a separate measure before the end of the fifty-first congress.

Too Late for This Session.

Rowell of Illinois said that he did not see how the recommendations could be adopted at this time. He had always been in favor of going a great way with South American nations in the matter of reciprocity, but at the present time there were too many conflicting relations between the American nations to make the culmination of Blaine's idea speedily possible. Dorsey of Nebraska, though favoring the idea, thought it was too late to adopt it this session, and McCutcheon of Michigan expressed pretty much the same view.

SAT DOWN UPON CALL.

The Florida Senator Again Squelched—Congress in Brief.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 27.—Call offered a resolution in the senate Wednesday instructing the secretary to compile a table showing the effective work done by each senator, but Edmunds spiked the gun yesterday by having the resolution laid on the table. The rest of the day was devoted to the discussion of the Wyoming statehood bill, the Democrats opposing and Republicans advocating. Several bills of no particular public interest were passed, a short executive session was held and the senate adjourned.

In the house several bills were passed, one of them being a bill to allow first and second class postoffice clerks fifteen days' leave of absence each year. Then the great debate on the national election bill began. Lodge of Massachusetts having charge of the bill and opening the debate. He said the bill was only an extension of the law already on the statute books; declared that its constitutionality was unassailable and gave figures to show that elections for members of congress were notoriously corrupt in the south. Hemphill of South Carolina said the bill was unconstitutional, and gave figures to show that the north was unfair in its appointment for members of congress. Rowell spoke for the bill, and Lehlbach of New Jersey and Tucker of Virginia in opposition, and the house adjourned.

MORGAN STOOD BY HIS FRIEND.

Consequently Wilson of Washington Retired in Disgust.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 27.—Representative Wilson of Washington, called on Indian Commissioner Morgan yesterday in regard to Superintendent Abbott, of the Indian school at the Yakima agency. Abbott is from Rhode Island, and was appointed by Gen. Morgan, and the latter evinced no surprise when Wilson told him that Abbott was a Democrat, and ought to give place to some good man who was a Republican. In order that the commissioner might not be at a loss to get someone to fill Mr. Abbott's place, Wilson suggested a name and urged the appointment. Gen. Morgan, however, did not want to abandon his friend, and so he stood out in his defense. A debate ensued in which neither party became convinced, and Wilson grew very angry. The interview terminated rather abruptly, and Wilson withdrew, announcing his intention to carry the matter to Secretary Noble.

Chicago Is Probably Number 2.

WASHINGTON CITY, June 27.—Chief Clerk Childs, of the census office, says that the returns from the Chicago census already received here indicate for that city a population of between 1,225,000 and 1,250,000. Mr. Childs believes the latter figure will be reached, and that Chicago is the second city of America in population, with a clear lead of at least 200,000 over its nearest competitor.

Minneapolis Will Wax Wrath.

Peculiar Sequence of Occurrences that Led to the Shooting of a Passenger—Preparations for the Unveiling of the Hendricks Monument Complete—Terre Haute Saloons Obtain an Injunction—An Interesting Wedding.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 27.—There will probably be no strike of engineers on the Big Four. The joint grievance committees of the engineers of the system have finished their work all but a few details, and Chief Arthur has left for Cleveland. The object of the conference has been made public. The Big Four system has been made up of a large number of independent roads consolidated during the last year. On all these branches wages have been left pretty much as they were found, some paying by mileage, others by trips, and others by time, with varying schedules for each method. The committees were called together to draw up a uniform schedule of wages for the whole system. This has been done, and presented to General Manager Peck. The engineers say they have no idea that a strike will be necessary, and the officers of the road say they will go to any reasonable length to effect a fair settlement.

REMARKABLE FATAL ACCIDENT.

The Brake Crank of a Street Car Causes a Sudden Death.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 27.—Timothy Liddy, a plumber, was fatally shot on a street car Thursday. He sat just behind Driver Thomas George, and as George let off the brake the crank struck a rod in Liddy's hand. It was driven against George's side, and the report of a pistol followed instantly. Liddy fell back clutching at his hat. A brief examination showed that a bullet from a heavy pistol in the driver's coat pocket had pierced his head above the right temple. His hat was half filled with blood and brains. He was placed in an ambulance and taken to his home, where he died an hour later. The driver started at once for the police station, but was so overcome by grief over the accident that he sank down on the way. The police refused to lock him up, and it is not at all probable that he will be prosecuted.

The Hendricks Monument.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 27.—The Hendricks monument committee and the board of trade committee have held a joint meeting and made final arrangements for the unveiling of the monument on Tuesday next. Gen. ## A GENERAL TIE-UP LIKELY.

The Illinois Central Refuses to Go Back on Russell.

CHICAGO, June 27.—The conference between the officials of the Illinois Central railway and the strikers' committee lasted until 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The final answer of the company was to the effect that they would not be justified in removing Mr. Russell from his position. The committee of the strikers reported at once at their headquarters, and last evening a big meeting of strikers was held. Nearly 400 were in attendance. The meeting was secret, and its import and results could only be gleaned from the statements secured after its close. From the street frequent and hearty applause could be heard, and it was evident that the report of the committee and speeches made were approved. The matter of final settlement was left in abeyance, however, until this morning, when a meeting was held beginning at 9 o'clock. The strikers show no signs of weakening, and unless some compromise can be effected to-day nothing can prevent the strike spreading.

CHEAP SILVER, DEAR GOLD.

turbed, or rather it is not marvelous that the disparity of value is not much greater than it is?

The bickering that has been constantly kept up in congress over the silver question ever since the passage of the law in 1878 authorizing the coinage of it, inspires its opponents everywhere with faith in a final victory, and this encourages them to renew their efforts to regain their point, by doing all they can to depreciate the price of silver and bull the price of gold. This is one of the causes of the present low price of silver. These monometalists know that a house divided against itself cannot stand.

1st. It will certainly be admitted, even by the most strenuous monometalists, that I have shown abundant cause for the present disparity in the relative value of the two metals in the markets of the world, if the value of silver as a commodity is to be determined by the single gold standard.

2nd. It will also be noticed that I have not assigned the recent increased production of the silver mines of the U. S. or of any other place, as one of the causes of the disparity in the relative value of the two metals. This is the main and about the only reason usually assigned. I omitted to do so simply because the increased production has had little or no effect on their relative value.

3rd. I have shown by uncontrovertible facts that all the gold standard nations of Europe, assisted by the monometalists everywhere, were unable, in a conflict that lasted over 50 years, to create any great disparity in the fixed relative value of the two metals until after our Government united its forces with theirs, and other monometalists, and opened fire in concert with them.

A Girl's Best Charm.

My dear girls, keep yourselves looking as sweet and dainty as possible. Never undervalue the charm of an agreeable appearance. It is the most delightful letter of introduction that can be given to a stranger, and there is no reason in the world why every woman should not be pleasant to look upon. A famous woman once said, "There are no ugly women; there are only women who do not understand how to make themselves beautiful." This is absolutely true. So the right thing for you to do is to sit down, think it over and make yourself the charming example that points the moral of this.—Ladies' Home Journal.

World's Fair Matters Getting Into Business Shape.

IMPORTANT MEETING AT CHICAGO.

The National Commissioners Gather and Begin Organization—The Members Banqueted by the Chicago Association—A Three-Hours' Feast of Fat Things Followed by Encouraging and Enthusiastic Speeches—President Harrison's Letter—Ex-Senator Palmer Cheered.

CHICAGO, June 27.—For the past week the World's fair commissioners appointed for the several states have been gathering in this city to hold a meeting for organization purposes, and they were nearly all present yesterday, when the first meeting was held. Among the well-known men present were ex-Congressman John T. Harris, of Virginia; ex-Mayor John Boyd Thacher, of New York; T. W. Palmer, ex-minister to Spain; ex-Congressman John McKenzie, of Kentucky; Senator W. J. Sewall, of New Jersey; M. H. DeYoung, editor of The San Francisco Chronicle; T. M. Waller, ex-consul general at London; M. L. McDonald, of California; P. A. B. Widener, of Pennsylvania; Joseph Hirst, of Florida; Augustus E. Bullock, of Massachusetts, and a host of merchant princes, bankers and lawyers.

A Meeting for Business.

The meeting took place at the Grand Pacific, and was called to order "in the name of the United States" by A. T. Ewing, of this city. John T. Harris, of Virginia, was chosen temporary chairman; R. R. Price, of Kansas, temporary secretary, and W. E. Curtis, assistant secretary. A resolution was adopted appointing a committee of twelve on permanent organization, and to recommend what officers and committees shall be appointed, the officers to be elected in open meeting. The committee was appointed as follows: McKenzie, of Kentucky; Smalley, of Virginia; Ewing, of Illinois; McDonald, of California; Cochrane, of Texas; Kerins, of Missouri; Widener, of Pennsylvania; Goodell, of Colorado; Breslin, of New York; Martindale, of Texas; Harrison, of Minnesota, and Keogh, of North Carolina. The commission then adjourned for the day.

THE COMMISSIONERS DINED.

The Local Management Banqueted the Nation's Representatives.

The banquet tendered by the state's association to the national and state commissioners took place in the banquet hall of the Palmer house last night and was an event of unusual brilliancy. Besides the special guests of the evening, who numbered 110, representative and distinguished citizens to a total of 250 sat down to the tables. Judge Leroy D. Thoman presided at the main table. On his right were seated Chief Justice Fuller, Judge Gresham, M. H. DeYoung (of San Francisco), and ex-Congressman Harris (of Virginia), and on his left Bishop Fallows, Charles H. Jones (of St. Louis), W. L. Elkins (of Philadelphia), ex-Governor A. G. Bullock (of Massachusetts), and A. B. Andrews (of New York). At the other tables every railroad entering the city, every bank and manufacturing industry, and all the professions were represented. The floral decorations of the hall were of the most elaborate and artistic character.

Judge Thoman's Welcome.

Nearly three hours were occupied in discussing the menu of ten courses and it was close upon 11 o'clock when Judge Thoman rapped for order. In a brief address, which was enthusiastically applauded, he welcomed the commissioners to the city. The coming fair, he said, would mark an epoch in the history of the universe; and its success depended upon the wisdom and energy of those surrounding him. He congratulated them upon the fact that every state and territory was represented; that for the good of this enterprise north and south had come together, all working for one common object, and under one flag.

A Letter from the President.

The following letter from President Harrison, dated June 23, was then read: "I am in receipt of the invitation on behalf of the citizens of Chicago to attend a reception and banquet to be given on the evening of the 26th inst. to the United States commissioners of the World's Columbian exposition. It will be impossible for me to be present, but I will avail myself of the opportunity to express my deep interest in the success of the exposition, and my sincere hope that the commissioners on the part of the United States will not fail to co-operate diligently and in the most liberal spirit with the local managers in everything calculated to make this in fact, as well as in name, a world's exposition."

A Hint to the Old World.

John Boyd Thacher, of New York, responded to the toast of "The Relations of the World's Columbian Exposition to International Unity." He said that within the walls of Chicago in 1893 Germany might obtain from Great Britain a nobler blessing than Heligoland, and England might find a thought expressed into form by the deft fingers of some German mechanic, which would be more valuable to her than twenty Zanzibars. He would rather be a member of the World's fair commission, and bring about an exchange between two free ideas, than to effect a royal alliance, or negotiate a treaty. There was no need of disguising the fact, that to too many people the selection of a site so far away from the coast line seemed unwise and untimely; but it is now apparent that in this election would be found the secret of coming success, and that in it they would have another illustration of building better than they knew.

No Site Yet Determined Upon.

Hon. Thomas B. Bryan, of Chicago, the working vice president of the fair, in responding to the toast of "The Dual Government," took occasion to correct a report that had been circulated during the day to the effect that the Lake Front site had been definitely settled upon. Hon. Charles H. Jones, of the St. Louis Republic, who responded to the toast of "The Press" was exceedingly complimentary to Chicago. Hon. Henry Exall, spoke about the fair's relation to interstate unity; Hon. James A. McKenzie upon its relation to commerce, and Hon. Mark L. McDonald upon its relation to labor.

Ex-Senator Palmer's Reception.

Ex-Senator Palmer, of Michigan, who, as the probable president of the national commission, was enthusiastically received, spoke upon the fair's relation to our national growth. The closing toast to education and literature was spoken to by ex-Governor A. G. Bullock, of Massachusetts, who declared that the same forces that had enabled the people of Chicago to build their great city would also apply to the establishment of the exposition without a possibility of failure. It was after midnight when the speechmaking had concluded and the company dispersed to the strains of "America."

QUICK WORK WITH MARAUDERS.

Mexican Authorities Give Them a Prompt Trial and Cold Lead.

NEW YORK, June 27.—A special to The Herald from San Antonio says: Two parties have made a marauding expedition against Mexico, one above and the other below Laredo. The band above was so hotly pursued on United States soil by United States troops from Fort McIntosh that they crossed over into Mexico before they intended to, and fell into the hands of the Mexican cavalry. In the short fight which ensued Santiago Andoval, one of the leaders, and several others of the filibusters were wounded.

They Will Filibuster No More.

Soon after their capture another of the leaders was summarily shot, and it is reported that on Wednesday evening, after a brief military trial, the other members of the party were taken to a ravine back of Nueva Laredo and shot by their captors. The second expedition crossed to Guerrero, twenty-five miles below Laredo, where they robbed the custom house and several stores. During their attack on the town one of their leaders was killed, and shortly afterward the majority of the band were captured, but what was done with them is a mystery. The Mexican authorities are studiously silent. All of the invaders were Mexican citizens, their object being to plunder.

FRIGHTFULLY FATAL EXPLOSION.

Out of a Dozen Men Seven Are Killed or Fatally Wounded.

ASHLEY, Mich., June 27.—Gardner's stove mill, at North Star, was wrecked Wednesday by a boiler explosion. Four men were killed outright, and a fifth was injured so badly that he died yesterday morning, while a number of others were seriously hurt. The list of killed is as follows: Fred Tucker; Charles Brown; Hiram Goodwin; Costello, of Green Bay, Wis.; Frank Gardner, who died yesterday morning.

Two More Deaths Probable.

The injured men, J. Britton, injured internally and skull fractured, will probably die; D. Britton, skull fractured, and will probably die; William Erb, badly cut about the head; J. Hull, broken arm and internally injured; William Rody, Cassius Conklin, James Brown.

The mill at once took fire and it was only by the greatest efforts that the bodies of the killed and wounded were taken from the wreck. The mill is a total wreck, everything being burned, including the stock and two cars loaded with headings.

DOINGS OF A DARING RASCAL.

He Robs a Mine Paymaster in Broad Daylight and Escapes.

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 26.—At noon yesterday Paymaster Atkinson, of the Wynn Coke works, was seated alone at the company's office counting the money to pay the company's employees. Atkinson had just placed the money—$1,200—in envelopes, when suddenly a masked man covered him with a revolver and ordered him to throw up his hands. Atkinson ran out of the office and gave an alarm. The robber seized the money and fled.

Thrown with Commendable Precision.

A party gave chase. The robber turned and fired several shots at his pursuers. The yard boss hit the thief with a stone, causing him to drop his hat and part of the money. He was recognized as Perry Donaldson, a former employee of the company. A sheriff's posse is in search of the thief.

FIRENZI IS THE CHAMPION.

He Gets Over a Mile and a Half in 2:33, Beating the Record.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Another record was lowered on the Sheephead Bay track yesterday, Firenzi, with 117 pounds up, running the mile and a half, for the Coney Island cup, in 2:33, one second lower than the record. Cassius, as usual, went out and made the running, followed by Firenzi. Cassius led by two lengths to the stretch, where Firenzi challenged him and drawing away won by three lengths. Cassius beat Tea Tray four lengths. The previous record (2:34) was made by Firenzi at Monmouth Park Aug. 2, 1888, carrying 113 pounds.

On the Base Ball Field.

At Pittsburgh—Pittsburgh 0, Boston 6; batteries—Bowman and Decker, Clarkson and Bennett. At Cleveland—Cleveland 4, Philadelphia 8; batteries—Wadsworth and Zimmer, Smith and Clemens. At Chicago—Chicago 11, Brooklyn 5; batteries—Lubie and Stenzel, Lovett and Daly.

A Rioting Striker Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—James W. Kerr, of the firm of Steiger & Kerr, proprietors of the Occidental foundry, yesterday shot and killed Edward Cogogan, a molder's apprentice employed in the Vulcan Iron works. Kerr and a non-union molder named Claussen were attacked on the street by a crowd of strikers and were being badly beaten, when Kerr drew a revolver and fired.

Mother and Child Cremated.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., June 27.—At Orbisonia, Wednesday night, Mrs. Adam H. Wise faintly while filling a lamp, dropping the oil can on a stove. She and a little son who was standing at her side were drenched with the burning oil and fatally burned.

Lucky Harry Broughton.

DANVILLE, Ill., June 27.—Harry Broughton, of Catlin, this county, has fallen heir to property valued at $300,000, located on Broadway, New York. He started east Wednesday night in company with his attorney.

NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nerve Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir, are dependent on nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is an insufficient supply of nerve food in the blood, a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied, and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This recent production of the South American Continent has been found, by analysis, to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its magic power to cure all forms of nervous derangements.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., Aug. 20, '86.

To the Great South American Medicine Co.:

DEAR GENTS—I desire to say to you that I have used several bottles of the Great South American Nerve Tonic and Stomach and Liver Cure, and I consider that every bottle did for me one hundred dollars worth of good, because I have not had a good night's sleep for twenty years on account of irritation, pain, horrible dreams, and general nervous prostration, which has been caused by chronic indigestion and dyspepsia of the stomach and by a broken down condition of my nervous system. But now I can lie down and sleep all night as sweetly as a baby, and I feel like a sound man. I do not think there has ever been a medicine introduced into this country which will at all compare with this Nerve Tonic as a cure for the stomach."

A SWORN CURE FOR ST. VITUS'S DANCE OR CHOREA.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND., May 19, 1886.

My daughter, twelve years old, had been afflicted for several months with Chorea or St. Vitus's Dance. She was reduced to a skeleton; could not walk, could not talk, could not swallow anything but milk. I had to handle her like an infant. Doctor and neighbors gave her up. I commenced giving her the South American Nerve Tonic; the effects were very surprising. In three days she was rid of the nervousness, and rapidly improved. Four bottles cured her completely. I think the South American Nerve Tonic the greatest remedy ever discovered, and would recommend it to everyone.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA.

The Great South American Nerve Tonic

Which we now offer you, is the only absolutely unfailing remedy ever discovered for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and the vast train of symptoms and horrors which are the result of disease and debility of the human stomach. No person can afford to pass by this jewel of incalculable value who is affected by disease of the Stomach, because the experience and testimony of thousands go to prove that this is the ONE and ONLY ONE great cure in the world for this universal destroyer. There is no case of unaligned disease of the stomach which can resist the wonderful curative powers of the South American Nerve Tonic.

Harriet E. Hall, of Waynetown, Ind., says:

"I owe my life to The Great South American Nerve Tonic. I had been in bed for five months from the effects of an exhausted Stomach, Indigestion, Nervous Prostration and a general shattered condition of my whole system. Had given up all hopes of getting well. Had tried three doctors with no relief. The first bottle of the Nerve Tonic improved me so much that I was able to walk about, and a few bottles cured me entirely. I believe it the best medicine in the world. I can not recommend it too highly."

Mrs. Russell, Sugar Creek Valley, Ind., writes:

"I have used several bottles of The Great South American Nerve Tonic, and will say I consider it the best medicine in the world. I believe it saved the lives of two of my children. They were down and nothing appeared to do them any good until I procured this remedy. It was very surprising how rapidly they both improved on its use. I recommend the medicine to all my neighbors."

Mrs. Ella A. Stratton, of New Ross, Indiana, says:

"I can not express how much I owe to the Nerve Tonic. My system was completely shattered, appetite gone, was coughing and spitting up blood; am sure I was in the first stages of consumption, an inheritance handed down through several generations. I began taking the Nerve Tonic and continued its use for about six months, and am entirely cured. It is the greatest remedy for nerves, stomach and lungs I have ever seen."

Ed. J. Brown, Druggist, of Edina, Mo., writes:

"My health had been very poor for years, was coughing severely. I only weighed 110 pounds when I commenced using South American Nerve Tonic. I have used two bottles and now weigh 120 pounds, and am much stronger and better than have been for five years. Am sure would not have lived through the winter had I not secured this remedy. My customers see what it has done for me and buy it eagerly. It gives great satisfaction."
